

Michael Sengara

Vice President, Special Projects

Michael Sengara brings over 20 years of experience in the construction industry and is currently the Vice President of Special Projects at Axiom Builders. His expertise includes large-scale tenant improvements (TIs), creating and managing high-level project teams, implementing construction programs across multi-site projects, and pre-construction analysis.

Throughout his career, Michael has successfully delivered a wide range of projects, including the Post lobby and common area TI project, retail TIs including Muji, Arc'teryx, Kerrisdale Lumber, and the BC Hydro NERC CIP upgrades to generation and properties sites.

He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Victoria and has completed Graduate Studies in Project Management at the UBC Sauder School of Business.

Outside of work, he enjoys playing hockey, squash, running, and pickleball and spending time with his family, including his twin 15-year-old boys.
